

Reflections

As we started this new year God gave us the promise that this would be the year of Harvest. As human beings we always try to look way ahead to see what God has in store for us, missing what he is doing right now. I would have never in my life time imagined the blessings in the revelation that God has showed us, thru the ministry this past January. Seeing the light shine thru this ministry, with the power of God, has me ask myself, "How much greater can God get?". Thru the word of our prophet: Look, Christ in you make Him the center of Life of the Revelation. See? Christ's Life in you make him the center of the revelation. Christ in the Bible, make the bible a complete revelation of Christ. Christ in you make you the complete revelation of the whole thing. See, what God's trying to do? CHRIST IS THE MYSTERY OF GOD REVEALED

My brothers and sisters, we can see the greatness of God shining thru his bride in our day. We must press on. Victory is in our hands.

Hebrews 13:1

"Let brotherly love continue."

54-0228A - "Expectation"

And when we love God with all of our hearts, souls, and minds, and we love one another as ourselves, our neighbors as ourselves, the people can actually feel that. You can't put it on. You can't make a belief, 'cause they'll know it.

I believe Lincoln said one time, "You can fool part of the people, part of the time, but not all of the people, all of the time." And that's right. And if you've got love in your heart for the people, they'll know it.

You might act indifferent or anything, but still they know it. They can feel it. It's another dimension, as we call it, that injects to these people a love that they know it. And they'll believe it. And that's when you can help the person, when you believe it.

The Bride's Picture

By: Sister Lana Hom

A picture is worth a thousand words
 An old cliché so many have heard
 So if your life were a picture, what would it say?
 What would the artist's strokes convey?
 I've thought of this myself, so many, many times
 With my life on canvas, what would the viewer find?
 Perhaps, first of all you'd see, an altar with a young girl on her knees
 Turmoil and disdain have disappeared and peace on her face
 Because from this time on, all her past has been erased
 You would see no glitter, fortune, or fame
 But Maybe a Scene of "Tug Of War", She played in life's game
 Her feet look burned from getting pulled too close to the fire
 And her clothes are kind of dirty, being rescued from the mire
 In the background, what's that? An Old Rugged Cross?
 You mean "This Path". She also had to walk?
EVERYONE knows THAT represents death
 After all this suffering, that's where she's lead?
 Her Heart and Her Body may be distorted by scars
 But this picture isn't complete, NO NOT BY FAR!
 As the piece of art, the critic continues to review
 Tries to sort it out clue by clue
 Is that a wedding feast taking place, spread across the sky?
 And is that a King wiping the tears from His Queen's Eyes?
 You mean this same pitiful creature that's in the other scenes
 Is actually the Bride of This Great King!
 Now this is really too much! What's that splitting the eastern sky?
 Why it's an army upon white horses, Led by that same King that wiped the tears from Her eyes!
 What? She's also on a horse!
 Looks like they are returning to earth to fight a war!
 As the Critic viewer stands in awe, in God's Great Hall of Fame
With One Last Great Gasp, Exclaims!
 Why this picture is quite a priceless work of art!
 Great Mysteries are revealed in it, part by part
 Who would ever have known the young girl, so battered and torn
 With so many Great sorrows born
 Was actually a Queen and loved so much
 By This Great King!
 He brought her back to light this Earth. As the final scene portrays she'll rule and reign with him eternally
 Forever on Display

Greetings Friends'

This past Sunday, on Facebook a young lady asked if anyone knew of a shop being open where she could get her nails done. She stated all the nail shops in our area were closed on Sunday's. Someone replied to her that there were some nail shops open on Sunday, and they are called churches. They deal primary with three nails that were driven into the hands and feet of Jesus Christ, our savior...
